

Photos & Video Recordings of the performances

Photography at all theatres is not permitted.

We must ask that our audience members respect that no photography, audio or video recording is permitted by patrons at any of the theatres where Stage School Australia presents our semester performances or other shows. This policy is due to a number of privacy, copyright and safety concerns.

Just as you would expect in any professional theatre space, the staff at the Theatres endeavour to ensure that audiences can enjoy the show uninterrupted by sounds of cameras clicking, flashes or video/phone/iPad screens. These interruptions can also be distracting to performers and are a safety hazard. Furthermore, the policy ensures that we comply with copyright and privacy regulations enforced by national and international regulatory bodies.

Stage School will endeavour to provide families with a photographic memento of their child's participation in our classes and/or of the shows, which may be impacted by Covid-19 restrictions. Families will be contacted by email what is possible.

Unfortunately due to copyright restrictions we are not permitted to produce DVDs of any of the performances.

We trust you will understand and hope that you enjoy the shows.
